side yourself

side yourself

ROMANZE.

Andante.

QUEEN.

Andante.

It was a wondrous fair

PIANO

and starry sight the heavens with thousand beams were bright with lightest steps the King come to my side and sought his waiting longing loving bride—He gazed at me, his glance was full of charm.
and then around me pressed his arm; He drew me to his breast.

and I was happy and blest; But sudden to Lento  Allegretto moderato.

He table swept his glance and the pie did him entrance.

notes its smell, it suits him well, and then he turns away; and not a word doth say, the pie he ate, at one clean-sweep, and then,

IRENE.

QUEEN.

and then, and then he fell fast asleep much brighter

Andante
joy I surely thought to me the wed-ding night had brought I thought with him I'd happy be. The moon alone was there to see. And snoring there lay

I thought with Much brighter joy I sure had thought the royal love to you had brought.

him I'd happy be. The moon alone was there to see. And he lay snoring yes molto rit.

No. 3 Romanze and Duett.

Allegretto grazioso.

IRENE.

She laughs at me.
And thinks that he doth love her.
Ah we shall see.

PIANO.

It is not true.
I know he's not deceiving.
It cannot be.

Yes, we shall see!
In this affair,
My power shall rule.

It cannot be.
I'll trust in him.
His honor still be.